

Newport Philatelic Society

Newsletter 20th Release: Number 80 September 2020

Introduction:

Dear members, we have all reached a significant milestone together, with this the 20th issue of this lockdown Newport Philatelic Society Newsletter. A big thank you to all of the various contributors who have sent in all the different articles and pictures over the last few months to make this happen.

In this issue I am grateful to have some great contributions from Graham, Martyn and Lynne, Graham has sent us an article on Slania, and Martyn, has shared some of his latest acquisitions which he is adding to his Fiji collection. Lynne has sent in some “labels” for us all to investigate and comment on.

With the extended lockdown now upon many of us and if you are sorting out stamps or buying new items for your collection please think of the newsletter and take a picture and sent it in and I will look to include it in a future issue. Also do not forget if you have any stamp related news or interests to share please pass it on so that I can share it with the wider membership.

We can also use our website for useful links and articles. Our website has now been updated with the older issues of the newsletters.

I received an interesting letter at work this week, which I had to pay £2 to get it delivered! On the cover there is an interesting “Counterfeit Stamp” handstamp which I have not seen before. I am not convinced the stamp is fake but it looks like a reuse of a stamp from a previously un-postmarked sending.

Slania: (Graham)

“Attached are some pages from my Slania collection. My collection includes all the countries for which he designed and/or engraved stamps. The United Nations were the last stamps engraved by Slania to be issued. In addition there are two engraved items, The Battle of Lutzen which he engraved from a painting by Carl Wahlborn. The detail is amazing. The second is a page of World Championship boxers which he did because of his love of boxing. The Poland page shows the first stamps he engraved (outlined in black). The worker with the axe was engraved by Polak but the axe is attributed by Slania when he was an apprentice. If anyone is interested more about Slania there is a great site at www.slaniastamps-heindorffhus.com.”

Note 1 : Slania has been credited with this stamp in various databases and the Czeslaw Slania Study Group in Milwaukee, Wisconsin USA (now closed), and credit Slania as the engraver. In 1985 it was announced by the US Postal Service that Slania was to engrave the World War I stamp. There was controversy about a foreign engraver doing this work and the engraving for the Korean War Veterans Stamp was credited to an American engraver, Thomas Hipschen.

Note 2 : Stanley Gibbons cites Yves Baril as the engraver for this stamp. Searching a database for Yves Baril does not show that he engraved this stamp. References by the Anne Motta Heindorf database and the Czeslaw Slania Study Group (See Note 1), credits Slania as the engraver.

Note 3 : The stamp design appears in two varieties the booklet stamp of 4 stamps, engraved by Slania and a sheetlet stamp also of 4 stamps engraved by Thomas Hipschen. The sheetlet stamp can be identified because the stamp is perforated all round.

Note: Slania's engraving shows the date as 6 November which is according to the Gregorian Calendar.

World Heavyweight Boxing Champions

Slania was a keen boxing fan and his love of the sport prompted him to engrave a series of labels depicting world heavyweight champions from 1889 to 1964. It is stated that when he engraved the first label illustrating John L. Sullivan he used his own hands as the model.

New Aquisitions: (Martyn)

A used stamp example from the Roman Britain set issued by the GB Post Office in 2020 which has a local connection showing the Caerleon amphitheatre. The stamp also has the pictorial postmark commemorating Jack Charlton.

Martyn has also added to his Fiji collection with the following covers and includes some explanation of the stamps used in marine mail.

With the restoration of the service in November, 1929, a fresh type of stamps—see G—came into general use. As the datestamps used on the other ships were of similar pattern to the 'Tahiti,' it would be, to quote the Immortal Bard, "wasteful and ridiculous excess" to illustrate them, but 'Monowai' is shown on page 7. There were differences of size, etc., as follows:—

Aorangi	35 mm.	N.Z.	R.M.M.S.
Makura	31½ mm.	N.Z.	R.M.S.
Maunganui	34½ mm.	N.Z.	R.M.S.
Monowai	33½ mm.	N.Z.	R.M.S. up to Oct '31, then circle damaged between R. & M. from 22 June '33 and dot after R does not show.
Niagara	34 mm.	N.Z.	R.M.S.
"	32½ mm.	New Zealand	" shorter obliterating bars.

A New Zealand writer says "the Makura, Maunganui and Tahiti show traces of ornaments below the date-line" but the "ornaments" referred to are merely the cut away parts of the stamps which show, more or less, when the stamp is too heavily struck on the envelope, etc. The Aorangi, Monowai and Niagara postmarks also show traces of the "ornaments" which are not confined to "below the date-line." (Other, and later, scribes may perhaps wish to note this information).

P.S.

A new addition to my collection of Chepstow Postal history, not a particularly rare postmark but I liked the image of the St. Mary's (Chepstow's main church) football team of 1904. A sporting piece of philatelic history.
